I have been coming to Westport for many years and always have gone into, for Breakfast or Lunch, Elvira's, Betsy Mae's, Romanacci's Old Mill Deli. It has been a staple Landmark for residents of Westport and Contractors that serve the area for many years. Since the Romanacci Company took it over, renovated the Deli, Robin Tauck and Ellen Van Doorsten, as I know it, have been harassing through lawsuits, for the Beer and Wine License as well as the outside seating on the Deli property.

I also heard at one point Robin walked across the street and started yelling at the young lady (an employee of the Romanacci's) who was serving ice cream from the Cart, to a young child from the neighborhood.

As an Outsider looking in, and as I see it, the Deli has been there way before they came into the area, and if they don't like what is going on, they should move out of the area. The Deli should be marked as a Landmark of Westport.

I think it is a shame that the Community of Westport, because of these two women, have to be put through this Bull Shit.

Very truly Yours,
As An Outsider Looking In,
Michael Rubino
